

ANCORA

WATERFRONT DINING AND PATIO

FALSE CREEK

WINE BY THE BOTTLE

The primary focus is to take our audience in a discovery trip. When examining Ancora's wine list philosophy, it is without a doubt the food.

The wines at Ancora's are far and foremost chosen based on how well they go with the food. Ancora's Nikkei experience kitchen is a perfect marriage of Japanese, Peruvian cultures and heritage, with that in mind our food is a combination of light fresh and bold flavours.

The list of wines and sakes which I believe reflect the same qualities. It is wines from cooler appellations with a high and fresh acidity, great minerality and an elegant structure. In France it is primarily wines from Champagne, Loire, Burgundy, which live up to these specifications. But there are also wines from other parts of world, that fit well into the selection. Outside of France, we focus mainly on wines from U.S.A & Italy.

The second ongoing focal point for the wine philosophy at Ancora's is organics and biodynamics. There are several reasons for this. One aspect is that they express the terroir. Organic and biodynamic wines appear very authentic and truthful to the natural environment in their area of origin. To express terroir is an important, or maybe even the most important, criterion of quality at Ancora, both in connection to wine and food. The basic idea is to have the shortest possible distance between nature and the guest – to diminish the distance between the origin of the produce and the plate – or between the vine and the glass. Here, aesthetics and ethics are combined in the wish of bringing about the undisturbed, the clean and unique in respect of time and place. Based on local specifics, Ancora has reached an expression, which owns general acknowledgment.
